See the tight week before it arrives.

Three pages: a worked example, a blank grid for Mon 7 Dec 2026 to Sun 7 Mar 2027, and the Singapore dates in those weeks, each with its official source.

01 Four rules for filling it in

1. Cash, not profit. Money goes in the week it reaches or leaves the bank, not the week of the sale.
2. Customer receipts go in the week you expect the money, not the invoice date and not the due date. If a customer usually pays 20 days late, write it 20 days late.
3. Whole thousands are enough. S$62,400 is 62. This is a planning sheet, not the books.
4. Start with today's bank balance. Opening, plus money in, minus money out, gives closing.

Which week is tightest? The weeks of 25 Jan and 1 Feb close at minus 10 and minus 9. Salaries and bonus (72), GST (26) and suppliers (42) all leave in one week.

What can move? A supplier takes 24 in the week of 15 Feb. A customer pays 18 before the holiday, not after. Now they close at 32 and 15. Only two dates moved.

The 20-minute Monday routine

1. Write last Friday's real bank balance under that week. 2. Tick what came in and went out, and move anything late. 3. Add what you learnt: a new order, a bill, a promised date. 4. Find the lowest closing balance. If it is below your floor, pick one move from page 3 and make the call today. One person owns the sheet.

03 Your 13 weeks: Mon 7 Dec 2026 to Sun 7 Mar 2027

Write in S$'000, in pencil. Each column is one week, Monday to Sunday. Fill the first column today and the rest as far as you can see.

Codes: C = CPF, the date after which enforcement applies. L = foreign worker levy due. G = GST: return and payment for October to December (31 Jan), GIRO deduction (15 Feb). P = property tax due. E = ECI filed by this date keeps 10 instalments (26 Jan) or 8 (26 Feb), for December year-ends on GIRO. H = public holiday. The number is the day of the month. Rules and sources are on page 3.

04 Dates already in your calendar

For a Singapore company, 7 Dec 2026 to 7 Mar 2027. Each rule was read on 11 Nov 2026 on the official page named beside it. The days of the week are my own calendar arithmetic. Check the page before you rely on a date.

DATE	WHAT THE OFFICIAL PAGE SAYS	SOURCE
Mon 14 Dec Thu 14 Jan Mon 15 Feb	CPF. Contributions are due on the last day of the month. Enforcement applies to employers who have not paid by the 14th of the following month, or the next working day if that is a weekend or public holiday (14 Feb is a Sunday). Late interest is 1.5% a month.	CPF Board: "Paying your employees' CPF contributions on time" (cpf.gov.sg)
From January payroll	CPF rates for staff aged above 55 to 65 rise on wages earned from 1 Jan 2027. The employer rate becomes 16.5% (above 55 to 60) and 13% (above 60 to 65), each 0.5 points higher.	CPF Board: senior worker rate changes, 1 Jan 2027 (cpf.gov.sg)
Thu 17 Dec Mon 18 Jan Wed 17 Feb	Foreign worker levy. Due by the 17th of the following month, or the next working day if that is a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday (17 Jan is a Sunday). With GIRO it is deducted on the 17th.	Ministry of Manpower (MOM): "Paying the levy" (mom.gov.sg)
Each month end	Salaries. Paid at least once a month, within 7 days after the end of the salary period. Overtime pay within 14 days.	MOM: "Paying salary" (mom.gov.sg)
Sun 31 Jan Mon 15 Feb	GST. The return and payment are due one month after the accounting period ends: 31 Jan for October to December. With GIRO, the deduction is on 15 Feb. The page gives no weekend roll-over for filing, so I would plan for Fri 29 Jan.	IRAS: "GST filing due dates and requests for extension" (iras.gov.sg)
Tue 26 Jan Fri 26 Feb	Corporate tax estimate (ECI), December year-ends. A Singapore-registered company on GIRO gets 10 instalments if it files by 26 Jan, 8 by 26 Feb and 6 by 26 Mar. In the IRAS example the deductions fall on the 6th of the month.	IRAS: "Estimated Chargeable Income (ECI) filing" (iras.gov.sg)
Sun 31 Jan	Property tax, if you own the premises. The 2027 bill arrives from December 2026 and must be paid by 31 Jan 2027. GIRO allows one deduction or up to 12 interest-free monthly instalments.	IRAS: "2027 Property Tax Bill" (iras.gov.sg)
Fri 25 Dec Fri 1 Jan Sat 6, Sun 7 Feb	Public holidays: Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Chinese New Year. Mon 8 Feb is a public holiday if your rest day falls on 7 Feb. Plan payment runs and approvals around them.	MOM: "Public holidays" (mom.gov.sg)

05 The two questions the sheet answers

1. Which week is tightest? Circle the lowest closing balance, then the second lowest. 2. What can move? Dates move more easily than amounts, and far more easily when you ask early.

MONEY IN, SOONER
Invoice on the day of delivery. Ask a large customer for a payment date before the holiday. Take deposits.

MONEY OUT, LATER
Ask a supplier for a later date before it is due, not after. Split one large payment across two weeks.

WHAT DOES NOT MOVE
Payroll, CPF, levy and tax dates. Plan around them. For tax instalments, read the pages above, then ask your tax agent.

Want a second pair of eyes on your sheet?

Send me your filled-in sheet. A photo or a scan is fine, and names are not needed. Within 48 working hours you get one page back: your two tightest weeks and one move for each, with a 5-minute recording that talks you through it. Free, and no pitch unless you ask for one. Message me CASH SHEET on LinkedIn.
